Dr. Jacobs,

My name is Steven Morris and I'm writing you this evening to enlighten you on the disappointment and outright disgust America feels over what you and the NOAA did today.

Releasing a statement directly contradicting your scientists to acquiesce to the President's demands sets a dangerous political standard for operations at the NOAA.

This is not North Korea or Russia. Donald Trump doesn't get to cherry pick the science that best suits his needs. The fact that nobody in the NOAA was brave enough to put a name on the press release tells me everything I need to know.

America needs a nonpolitical leader at the NOAA; one who will stick to science even if the President lies about it. You sir should be ashamed and resign from your post immediately.

A concerned citizen,

Steven Morris
